Aitiopaikka is a full-service meeting and function centre, located in the heart of Turku, which offers a diverse range of services for meetings, conferences and functions. A total of 12 different-sized and well-equipped rooms can be found under the same roof, providing just what is needed for all kinds of events. All rooms have wireless internet and up-to-date technology for running meetings and events. Video-conferencing is also possible. The dining hall can seat around 300 people.

The walls of the dining hall are lined with the softly shaded tiles manufactured by the legendary Kupittaa Savi Oy, which operated between 1921 and 1969. The tables and chairs are made from oak by a local carpenter. The quality catering services of FresCo Restaurants Oy complete the experience.

The view of the River Aura that opens up from the windows of Aitiopaikka's auditorium may be one of Finland's grandest seminar landscapes. The bright foyer is well suited for exhibitions and small-scale fairs.

Aitiopaikka is located in the public office building dating from 1969, and it contains within it a number of architecturally impressive spaces. The bright foyer and hall areas provide a contrast to the dark exterior. The interior materials, light surfaces, oak linings and inter- or glass walls strike a contrast with the copper façade.

The building was designed by Architects Risto-Veikko Luukkonen (1902–1972) and Helmer Erik Stenros (1929–). Similar kinds of office buildings that were modern for their time have been designed by people such as Alvar Aalto.

The Governor's Reception Hall has been an important part of the public office building since its beginnings. Distinguished guests of the Finnish state have been received and entertained behind its doors. Nowadays, there is also the opportunity to hold business or private events in the Reception Hall.

The Reception Hall has its own entrance from the side of the public office where the Wäinö Aaltonen museum is located. In addition to the impressive and atmospheric interior spaces, the quality is further raised by both the splendid terrace that opens out onto the River Aura and also the recently refurbished sauna facilities.

The Governor's Reception Hall is an excellent choice for memorable family celebrations and for higher-level social receptions. The hall's dining table sits 40 people, and the staff of FresCo Restaurants serve customers with the utmost professionalism.

"A worthy location on the banks of the River Aura!"
